Ahoy HISC Sailors. It has been a wonderful year and I would like to congratulate Jeff Sussman for heading up a great year with so many fun and successful activities. I take on this new role of Commodore feeling honored and humbled to be entrusted with such a task. I am very pleased to be working with Paul Alcock and Ross Hunton who are coming in as Vice and Rear commodore respectively. I couldn’t ask for a better lineup. The flag officers and governing board are top-notch and will serve us well. I’d like to thank all the volunteers who stepped up to help make this year a success. The club is in transition and new volunteers are needed more than ever to keep the momentum of the club. Volunteer and join a team, here is no better way to get involved and benefit from the club.

I am relatively new to sailing. As with many people, I found the idea of sailing intriguing as I watched from the shore. Against better judgement, I decided to buy a sailboat on a whim. This boat was located in Tampa. Not knowing how to sail I motored it singlehandedly through the Okeechobee waterway. Doing this was also against better judgement but went without incident and resulted in many very memorable moments. Immediately I joined HISC. I was looking for a way to get tips and advice on how to sail my boat. What I found was so much more. HISC is very much a family. So many members offered to sail with me and help me gain experience with my boat. My second time sailing on my boat was actually on an HISC series race course. What an experience! Now sailing and the sailing community is a large part of my life and lifestyle. Serving as commodore will give me the opportunity to give back to the club and community for the warm welcome I had received.

As mentioned, this is a transitional year so you will be seeing some changes. The most profound change will be how the race committee is run. Race Committee chair is a big job and one that is not easy to fill. So, we will be spreading out the workload. The Race program will now be run much like the Cruise program runs today. There will be a race coordinator (chair) that will oversee the program but will not run the individual races. Racers will volunteer to host a race each season and will be responsible for running those races. I encourage all racers to help host a few races in some capacity.

Want to race your boat but don’t know where to get started? Come join the Gunkhole fleet. This fleet was created to new racers and recreational racers. It is low-key, lightly competitive and has shorter courses. In addition, there are also many members willing to help by crewing with you on your first race. Come give it a try.

I’d like to encourage everyone to check our website, www.hisc.org. There you will find a calendar with all our upcoming events. Coming in March is the Circle Raft, Youth Sailing, and our fun St. Patrick’s Day Cruise. Get out and join the fun. Happy Sailing.

4 Easy Steps for a Successful Cruise:

1. Have a pre-cruise meeting with all of the Hosts. It’s a great excuse to have fun and plan the event. Have a theme and activities such as Contests and Awards.

2. Make sure to promote it at the General Meeting. Bring Prompts, Props and even Dress up, that’s what works best.

3. Take LOTS of pictures and post them on our Facebook Page. Write down the names of the boats that attended and send them to pierre@fiddlerman.com Write a brief narrative about the cruise and send it to BritInUSAgl@gmail.com

4. Remember, you have a small budget of $100 per night, please save your receipts and submit them to hemares@yahoo.com or bring them to a board meeting or General meeting and give them to hemares@yahoo.com

If you want to learn more about hosting one of our club Cruises, please contact me, I’m always happy to share the fun.

Youth Sailing

The Spring Youth Sailing Program is gearing up.

The older boats have been refurbished and the newest boats added to the fleet.

See you at the Quiet Waters Park (on Powerline Road North of Wiles Road)

Dates are:
Sat, 03/14/2020 9:00am
Sat, 03/21/2020 9:00am
Sat, 03/28/2020 9:00am
Sat, 04/04/2020 9:00am

Hey guys. In anticipation of quite few people “joining” the club at Youth Sailing I would like to request to have a board member present at opening day (14th Mar) to conduct interviews.

Historically the Youth Sailing group signs up primarily for the cost savings. I would prefer to complete the process all at once and not pass it along as a problem for membership.

The first day of the Youth Sailing Program is always a busy time, we need help getting the Sailors signed up and set up to start their sailing lessons.

If you would like to help, that’s GREAT! Just turn up a little early. Parking is less than a 2 minute walk from the water’s edge.

See you there.

Cheers, Barry
Change of Command Raft Up
Saturday, March 7, 2020 - 10:00 hrs
until Sunday March 8th, 2020 - 15:00 hrs

To all Sailors! It's about time for our Change of Command Circle Raft. This is THE event of the year. We are one of the few clubs in the country that does this, so you won't want to miss it.

March 7th and 8th At Lake Boca. The Circle will be formed from 11am to 3pm on the 7th. You must be present during this time to be part of the circle as it is closed promptly at 3pm. It is best to show up early!

Announce your arrival on Channel 68 and wait for instructions. You should review the Circle raft detailed instructions and follow them closely. You can also see basic information on our Flyer.

Check out this drone footage on youtube of a past raft.

Flag Ceremony begin at 5pm
New Cruising Flag unveiled at 5:30pm
Dink, Drink, Drift starts at 6pm

Bring an Appetizer to share at the Dink, Drink, And Drift. This is always a great time!

Don't miss it.

St. Patrick’s Day Cruise 2020
Sunrise Bay - Fort Lauderdale
Saturday March 14th. 2020

Location: Sunrise Bay (Dink Pickups at the Park across the ICW)

Date: Early birds - Friday PM, The rest: Saturday 14th.

Events:
Friday PM (6ish) Cocktails aboard the Host Boats
Saturday:
Dinks pick up at the floating dock at the Park opposite the ICW
3:00pm - Meet the members - dink to the other boats - find out something no body knows about the crew.
4:30pm - Host boats open for guests
Beer on the Bow of Exemius
Food on the Bow of Delecarlia (Brisket & Smashed Spuds - think ‘Forkable’)
Deserts on Bow of Pegasus
Games on Bows of all three boats
Best Dressed Leprechaun (Best Guy, Best Gal, Best Couple)
No Body Knows
Ad Hoc fun.
Bring something tasty to share (especially something Irish)

No body knows!
The idea is to get involved to learn about other members and their boats. (think Community)

Saturday, members dink around to the other boats and learn something that no body else knows and makes a note of it. (About the crew or the boat) - Don’t have a dink? Grab a lift on SED (someone else’s Dink)
Deliver your note to the Hosts with the Knowledge and Crew names, and the fancier.
During the No Body Knows game, Hosts announce the Knowledge gained during the dink around, and guests have to guess which boat/crew the knowledge came from.
Whiskey prizes for those that get it right. Whiskey prize for finders that have knowledge none other has!

The HISC is moving to a new Meeting Venue
Our March General Meeting will be at Galuppi's

1103 North Federal Highway
Pompano Beach, FL 33062

The March General Meeting will be held at our new venue: Galuppi’s Restaurant. There will be a Bar inside the meeting room, and the restaurant will be open during it’s normal hours, so it will be available both before and after the meeting for anyone wanting to dine.

If you do dine at the restaurant, please make sure that they know you are an HISC Club Member—we want to show them how we value their facility. We have found the staff to be very helpful and their food is great. See you there!
65th Annual Miami Key Largo Race

NOTICE OF RACES

The Miami Yacht Club welcomes back and thanks all past participants and welcomes new racers to the historic Miami Key Largo Race. These Races benefit the Miami Yacht Club’s Youth Sailing Foundation.

The proceeds from these Races support the Foundation’s programs, which promote youth sailing from beginning through advanced racing levels.
Dr. Plastic.

It always puzzled me how many last names are related to specific trees or woods.

I used Facebook to search for a couple of them. Cedar, Oaks, Maple, Hickory, Birch are all in there. You can even find Pine, the most common and inexpensive wood, and of course, the ever-present Teak.

Of course, having a tree last-name carries some ring to it. For example, Dr. Oaks sounds like a very respectable physician, but what about Dr. Plastic? Well, I guess the other doctor’s last names will carry farther away.

But in our sailing world, wood is quickly disappearing from boats. The traditional wooden boat now belongs to coffee-table books, eccentric millionaires, or an almost secret cult with a bimonthly magazine.

These are definitely old news, but like it or not, we are full into the era of plastics. And Plastics are not only replacing wood but metal as well. They are lighter, stronger, easier to put to work, and most of the time they look better.

But talking about looks, about four years ago, we got tired of constantly cleaning the rust stains on the base of Alebrije’s stanchions. We traced the problem back to the vinyl covered stainless-steel lifelines. The vinyl cover gave-up to the friction with the stanchions and because they were two different grades of stainless steel, corrosion activated every time water was on the mix, and thick stains appeared on our deck. The problem was particularly bad after a heavy saltwater spray.

Dyneema lifelines appeared like the perfect solution. Super easy to splice, different colors available, (we opted for blue for a better look,) and stronger than steel if you measure by width and of course weight. As an added benefit, you can carry spares, easy to store.

In about a week, I spliced all the lines in my spare time, ordered a few connectors on-line, and the rust is gone for good!

Three years later, we were on a coastal race with the club. After a perfect start, we were doing great and taking advantage of guessing the right mood of the wind shifts. The rest of the fleet was way behind. After a quick tack, our son, who was visiting us and is an excellent swimmer, leant on the port lifeline, and in no time, the lifeline snapped and he was in the water.

We follow the usual MOB process, horseshoe buoy to the water, figure-eight turn, boat to the wind, MOB to leeward. A few minutes later, after all the boats pass us, he is back on the boat complaining that he has to swim in one direction to get the buoy and on another one to reach the boat. Well, mister, that buoy is going to follow you every time you go to the water!

UHMW – Ultra High Molecular Weight Polyethylene, the material used for Dyneema lines, is considered practically indestructible. Resistant to abrasion, humidity, chemicals, and UV, so what happened? Well, accelerated UV tests show that UHMW loses approximately 20% of its strength at 400hrs of accelerated UV radiation in the lab, which roughly translates to 4000hrs of outdoor sunlight exposure, let’s say two years considering that the sunshine state gets an average of 66% of sunny days on a given year. Way better than Polyester that loses 50% in the same period. But from our observation, the problem was not the strength, but the resistance to abrasion, which is equally lost.

You see, that line was inside of a pool noodle so that the crew can lean against it while racing. So, it turns out that pool noodles became abrasive at the edge after being exposed to the elements. Salt weakening the strands and the back and forth friction of the noodle with the line as the boat moves, and voila!

So the moral of the story is:

+ No covering the lines with noodles.
+ Check for wear, especially at the edges.
+ Replace more often.

Welcome aboard Dr. Plastic.

Change of Command Dinner Dance
February 29th 2020

This was our first event at Galuppi’s in Pompano Beach and we had a great turn out. Twenty of our Past Commodores turned up and over 106 attendees were there for the Change of Command ceremony presided over by Jeff Sussman—Commodore 2019-2020.

Racing, Cruising, Youth Sailing and the very important Social Committees were recognized along with all of those members that helped make the 2019-2020 Commodore’s Year a huge success.

Galuppi’s got great reviews, the food was excellent, the decorations were fabulous. And the Dance crews filled the dance floor.

Our 2020-2021 Commodore—Dale Kern made his presentation and introduced the various committees—at one time it looked like there were more members at the podium getting recognition than those applauding their positions. It takes a lot to make a successful year in this club and each Commodore has a lot to live up to following those Past Commodores.

Commodore Dale’s theme this year is ‘Community’ so we can expect a lot of events that encourage members to get together and participate in the fun and comradery of our Club.

So, don’t hold back !! Join us when ever you can. There’s always room for you to play a part in our Cruises, Racing, Socials and Youth Sailing.

Look for a few new and special events in the coming year - we hope you’ll be surprised and want to get involved.
